GT4C301 Large tank vacuum tank sealing machine

Admito equipment overview

This machine is specially developed for the cannery production of 15173 and the original M603 and more convenient adjustment of automatic vacuum sealing machine, compact structure, convenient operation and adjustment, is the most ideal equipment for the large tank sealing.

This machine on the tank lid hook roll seal, like other a heavy roll edge joint sealing tank, by the first and two sealing wheel seam work, and make the tank turning and lid hook hook overlap bending, parallel pressure sealing and the formation of five layers of iron joint, the first seal wheel mainly is the edge of the tank and the lid hook in good bending hook, the second seal wheel is after the first joint after the formation of the seal. The symmetrical head channel and two channel structures make the sealing quality of the large tank more stable. With a vacuum system, it can vacuum the tank, no longer equipped with a steam exhaust box, reducing the cost of the product, and extending the shelf life of the can.
